

Go Fishing At Greenbo Lake State Resort Park

Greenbo Lake State Resort Park offers some of the best trout fishing in Kentucky in Greenbo Lake (181 acres). The Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources stocks a total of 15,000 rainbow trout in this lake during January and October each year. Anglers have the best success at catching trout from mid-May through early September at night from dusk until 1 am. Fish at depths of 12 - 20 feet from a boat with a floating light over the deepest area of the lake. Motorboats must be operated at idle speed at Greenbo Lake.

Anglers can also experience good fishing for largemouth bass, bluegill, and channel catfish at Greenbo Lake. A fishing pier is located in the upper lake area near the boat ramp and a fishing walkway parallels the face of the dam. Because this lake is so deep and clear, fishing success is best during early morning, late afternoon, or at night.

Greenbo Lake State Resort Park encompasses 3,300 acres and is one of the most attractive parks in Kentucky due to the extensive forest that surrounds the deep, clear water of Greenbo Lake. Overnight accommodations include Jesse Stuart Lodge and Greenbo Lake Campground.
